FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MARYLAND STATE POLICE AND PARAMEDICS RECEIVE HIGH THREAT EXTRACTION DEVICE FROM NORTH AMERICAN RESCUE

The Maryland State Police Tactical Medical Program will soon have a well-earned advantage in tactical rescues due to a grant from National Emergency Medicine Association (NEMA) which enabled them to procure advanced technology high threat extraction devices from North American Rescue, Inc. Each team member will receive a device, ensuring higher success rates of recovering casualties in high risk tactical operations.

Grant funds were also used to purchase automatic external defibrillation devices and pulse oximeters. Every task force and police unit, local or federal, who calls for the Tactical Medical Team to respond will benefit significantly from the program's new equipment.

North American Rescue, Inc., based in Greer, South Carolina, has enjoyed the honor of serving their country, community, and customers for over a decade. By providing innovative casualty care solutions to first responders, health care professionals, and security forces at home and abroad, NAR is leading the fray to decrease preventable death on the battlefield, whether it be a foreign combat zone or the streets of America.
